The objective of the 9th International Conference on Sustainable Transportation & Smart Innovations is to build capacity to transport sector stakeholders on Safe, Smart and Sustainable Transport Systems for Global Economic Growth through sharing knowledge, experiences and best practices.

2. Background

Globalization and rapidly evolving technologies are driving profound changes in the role of transportation in our society. Through research studies and publications on various disciplines, we continue to provide authoritative and non-partisan policy advice to decision makers in government, academia, and the private sector. Although transportation research is integral to our societies, there are persistent challenges to the vitality of this sector. Funding for scientific research is increasingly uncertain and this calls for trans-disciplinary and trans-sector research collaboration to ensure that fundamental advances are made in the areas of focus for continuity and sustainability of transportation.

Despite the challenges facing the transport sector, there are many promising avenues to strengthen this sector. New models of cooperation among academia, industry and government can better enable transport experts to meet the formidable challenges ahead. The world is increasingly faced with complex problems that require the adoption of innovative research and approaches that will bring about lasting and sustainable solutions. For instance, the challenges facing communities from climate change, to providing adequate transport for the world's growing population are immense, urgent, and intimately connected. With proper coordination, transport experts are poised to help solve problems at this level of complexity and importance.

Redesigning dated organizational structures and cultural attitudes within and across the sectors could dramatically accelerate the development of new approaches. We now have critical mass in academia, government, and the private sector to achieve this. To attain global stature and tackle critical societal challenges in the transport sector will depend on how we nurture the research and publication ecosystem.

3. Targeted Audience

The 9th International Conference on Sustainable Transportation & Smart Innovations which is expected to be attended by about 300 participants is targeted at Senior Officials and Chief Executive Officers of Road Agencies/Departments and Other Transport Sector Agencies, Road Funds, Funding Agencies, University Vice Chancellors and other Academics, Researchers, Road Transport Design Consultants and Contractors, development partners and everyone in any way connected with transportation including other national government authorities, parastatals, policy and decision-makers, students, and professionals active in the planning, construction, maintenance, logistics, operation and safety of passenger and freight transport, road traffic, rail, maritime and aviation.

4. Supporters/Sponsors

4.1 The Global Transportation Professional Networking Group

The "Global Transportation Professional Networking Group" with America, Botswana, and Nigeria as the Regional Centres and International Secretariat is made up of transport professionals from the academic, business, and government sector with a commitment to proffer solutions to critical challenges facing transportation. (<https://ictatransportprofessionals.org/>)

In collaboration with Transport Stakeholders, Universities, and Transport Professionals in Africa, the Group has been organizing annual International Transportation Conferences in African countries and America. The 1st and 2nd editions were held at Gaborone, Botswana (ICTA 2014) with University of Botswana and Ministry of Transport & Communications, Botswana as co-host; and at Palapye, Botswana (ICTA 2015) with Botswana International University of Science and Technology as the co-host; the 3rd edition was held at Accra, Ghana (ICTA 2016) with Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology as the co-host. The 4th edition (ICTA 2017) took place from at Sheraton Hotel, Abuja, Nigeria while the 5th (ICTA 2019), 6th (ICTA 2021), and 7th (ICTA 2022) editions of the African American International Conference on Sustainable Transportation were held at Morgan State University, Baltimore, Maryland, USA as the co-host. 8th International Conference on Sustainable Transportation (ICTA2023) was hosted by Zambian Road Development Agency, June 26th–28th, 2023. AVANI Victoria Falls Resort, Livingstone, Zambia.

The next (ICTA 2024), 9th International Conference on Sustainable Transportation in Africa with Tanzania Roads Association as the co-host will be held on July 29th – 31st, 2024 at Gran Melia Hotels & Resorts, Arusha, Tanzania which will focus on how to optimally engage over 300 delegates and all stakeholders involved in the transport sector from America, African Countries, Australia, Asia, and Europe to provide “safe, smart and sustainable transport systems for global economic growth”.

Mission of the group

The goal of the group is to organise transportation professional conferences such as “International Conference on Sustainable Transportation” from country to country in Africa and America annually to provide a platform for experts and scholars to exchange ideas with each other and share the development and products in the field of transportation. It is apparent from the above that there is a generally perceived link between the state of development of a country and the extent of technology usage and availability of technical information in that country. It follows, therefore, that technology transfer, both within and outside a country to boost technology usage, is necessary for that country’s development. In other words, the extent and efficiency of a country’s technology transfer system could reveal the extent of that country’s development.

Membership

Everyone in any way connected with transportation is invited. This professional networking group will be of interest to funding agencies, national government authorities, parastatals, policy and decision-makers, academics, researchers, students, and professionals active in the planning, construction, maintenance, logistics, operation and safety of passenger and freight transport, road traffic, rail, maritime and aviation. End-users will also find the group of interest.
